

CONVERSATIONS

©2016 Sonja Smit

Beaches

Practice these conversations with a friend.

Going to the beach

Margi: Storm, let's go to the beach today.

Storm: Okay. I need a suntan anyway.

Margi: We need to take the beach umbrella, chairs and our towels with us.

Storm: Luckily, we can park close to the beach because that stuff can be heavy.

Margi: True. Don't forget your towel.

Storm: No, I won't. I'm wearing my swimsuit under my clothes and I'm wearing my flip-flops.

Margi: I see you are wearing your sunglasses. Please remember to also take a hat and sunblock.

Storm: I'm ready. Let's go!

Margi: What about the cano? We can have some fun with that.

Storm: You bet! Let's go!

