The Christmas Debate

Discuss:

"Christmas should be more about giving than receiving."

You must give:

- an argument
- an example
- a counterargument
- a response

Christmas Without Christmas

Imagine Christmas suddenly disappeared.

What would happen to:

- shops
- workers
- schools
- children
- charities
- advertising
- tourism
- restaurants
- families

Which consequences would be positive?

Which would be negative?

The Perfect Christmas — Without Presents

Your family decides:

"This year we are not buying presents."

Instead, everyone must give something that costs little or no money.

Design the new Christmas.

What will you do?

Christmas Curveball

Imagine Santa announces:

"I'm retiring this year."

What happens next?

Who replaces him?

What happens to Christmas?

Create the story.

The Christmas Committee

Your town wants to create a large public Christmas celebration.

You have a limited budget.

You can choose only five:

- Christmas lights
- live music
- children's activities
- food market
- charity collection
- Christmas tree
- fireworks
- ice skating
- cultural performances
- free gifts

Decide as a group.

What should the town spend money on?

Magazine Challenge

Write the opening of a magazine article:

Christmas Is Changing

Discuss how Christmas celebrations are changing because of:

- technology
- social media
- international travel
- changing families
- shopping habits
- environmental concerns

Final Discussion

Choose two.

1. Is Christmas mainly religious, cultural or commercial today?
2. Should adults continue exchanging Christmas presents?
3. Is Christmas harder for poor families?
4. Should schools teach about Christmas traditions?
5. Is it possible to have a good Christmas without spending much money?
6. Are traditional Christmas customs disappearing?
