2. The Story

Every week I get some pocket money. I don't get it for free. I have to help at home. My parents say it teaches me responsibility.

On Saturday mornings, I wash Dad's car. I stand on a small ladder to reach the roof. It is hard work, but it is also fun! Sometimes my brother helps me and we make a big water fight.

I also get pocket money for doing the dishes after dinner and for sweeping the floor. When Mom needs bread or milk, I go to the shop for her. Every job has a small price.

When I finish my chores, Mom or Dad gives me my money. I feel proud because I worked for it. Sometimes I save my money to buy a new toy or a book. Sometimes I buy ice cream for me and my brother.

Not every child gets pocket money. I know some families don't have extra money. That's why I am thankful when I receive it.

Helping my family and earning pocket money teaches me that work is important and money is valuable.
