

AM IS ARE

1. Am I your teacher?
2. Is your teacher male or female?
3. Are you my students?

Write this on the board:

How many people are there in your family?

Students to answer using complete sentences:

There are _____ people in my family.

three, four, five...

My father is a/an _____.

an engineer/doctor...

I am a _____.

student

My cat is _____.

fat/lazy/beautiful...

Write this on the board:

This _____ my pencil.
These _____ my books.
What _____ I doing now?

Students to answer using complete sentences:

This is my pencil.

These are my books.

What am I doing now?

Round Robin Questions

Begin with one of your better students. Ask the student to look at the things on his/her desk and give you an example sentence with IS.

Some possibilities can be:

This is my book/eraser/pencil case/ruler/backpack, etc.

Drill students with Singular, One item, Only One, How many items?

Ask another student to give you an example sentence with ARE.

Some possibilities can be:

There are many students/desks/chairs/pens in the class.

Drill students with Plural, Many items, many students, How many items?

Ask if any student can give you a sentence with AM.

Some possibilities can be:

I am sitting on a chair. I am studying English. I am writing in my book.

Am I a student? Am I studying English? Am I going home after class?