

RESTAURANT FOOD

- a. Tell students you are going to play Round Robin Vocabulary.
- b. Example: What comes to mind when we think of China [vocabulary only]:
Great Wall, culture, chopsticks, Shanghai, big population, noodles, rice, etc.
- c. Now tell students to think of Restaurants and any word related to Restaurants that comes to their minds.
- d. In a small class, ask each student in a round-robin manner.
- e. In a big class, students can be divided into teams.
- f. Students must listen carefully and can NOT repeat any words.
- g. The first round is easy, but then students start to run out of words.
- h. This should be a fun activity. Keep going a few rounds.
- i. You can allow students to use their dictionaries if you wish. Write the good words on the board.

=====

True or False

1. In some restaurants, you can cook your own food at your table.
2. In France, it's common to have a cheese course after the main meal but before dessert.
3. In Mexico, it's common to eat dessert first before the main meal.
4. The tradition of "dim sum" in China involves serving small, bite-sized portions of food in bamboo steamer baskets.
5. In some American diners, it's customary to have breakfast food available all day long.
6. In Italy, it is traditional to eat pasta with a spoon and fork.
7. Some restaurants serve dishes made entirely from insects.

Teacher's Key

1. In some restaurants, you can cook your own food at your table.

True - Many Korean BBQ and Japanese hot pot restaurants offer this experience.

2. In France, it's common to have a cheese course after the main meal but before dessert.

True - Cheese is often served as a separate course in French dining.

3. In Mexico, it's common to eat dessert first before the main meal.

False - Desserts are typically served after the main meal, just like in most other countries.

4. The tradition of "dim sum" in China involves serving small, bite-sized portions of food in bamboo steamer baskets.

True - Dim sum is a traditional Chinese meal made up of small dishes served in steamer baskets or on small plates.

5. In some American diners, it's customary to have breakfast food available all day long.

True - Many American diners serve breakfast food, like pancakes and eggs, throughout the day.

6. In Italy, it is traditional to eat pasta with a spoon and fork.

False - Italians typically use just a fork to eat pasta.

7. Some restaurants serve dishes made entirely from insects.

True - Insect-based dishes are served in some restaurants, particularly in regions where insects are a traditional part of the diet.