1. Choose one of the above animals that you like.
2. Do some quick research and make a few notes.

You will have a conversation with a classmate.

1. To have a good conversation, research some interesting information:

Why do they kill these animals?

There is no shortage of these animals. Why is that?

Other information that you think is interesting and worth sharing.

2. When you have finished with the research, read through your notes and think of the easiest and most understandable way to tell your story to your partner.
3. Take turns sharing the information you found.
4. Use the 5 x “Wh” words to start a mini conversation about your findings.
5. Listen carefully to your classmate's findings and think of some questions you can ask him/her.
6. Have a conversation/debate and see how long you can talk about the topic.
7. When you have finished, talk to another classmate if you have enough time.
