

AUSTRALIA

Hug A Koala

1. wildlife
2. wildlife
3. popular
4. cuddle
5. currently
6. miniature
7. followers
8. sanctuary
9. free-roaming
10. eat breakfast

There's only one country on Earth where you can _____ a koala – Australia! This unforgettable wildlife experience is only available in select sanctuaries and _____ parks, and visits are carefully monitored to protect the health and safety of the koalas. Whether you hold, hug, or even _____ with a koala, it's an encounter you won't forget.

Here are a few of the best experiences on offer.

HAVE A HUG IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Kangaroo Island, with wide open spaces and stunning coastal cliffs, is like one big animal _____. The island, located off the coast of South Australia, is home to everything from sea lions to wallabies and dolphins and is hugely _____ with wildlife spotters.

There's a good chance you'll see koalas in the wild on the island, but for a close-up encounter, head to Kangaroo Island Wildlife Park where you can hold koalas and get a picture taken for all your Instagram _____. If you're up for a different type of _____ encounter, sign up for a reptile session, where you can hold snakes and lizards.

HOLD A KOALA IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

You can cuddle koalas in Western Australia, too — as long as you go to Cohunu Koala Park, just over a half-hour drive from Perth.

Cohunu _____ has more than 25 koalas alongside its largely _____ emus, wallabies, dingoes, deer, swans, owls, and 30 talking parrots. If you like, you can spot the animals from the comfort of a _____ train that chugs around the park.

Article from: <https://www.australia.com/en/things-to-do/wildlife/where-to-cuddle-a-koala.html>

Teacher's Key

1. cuddle
2. wildlife
3. eat breakfast
4. sanctuary
5. popular
6. followers
7. wildlife
8. currently
9. free-roaming
10. miniature

Hug a Koala

There's only one country on Earth where you can cuddle a koala – Australia! This unforgettable wildlife experience is only available in select sanctuaries and wildlife parks, and visits are carefully monitored to protect the health and safety of the koalas. Whether you hold, hug, or even eat breakfast with a koala, it's an encounter you won't forget. Here are a few of the best experiences on offer.

HAVE A HUG IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Kangaroo Island, with wide open spaces and stunning coastal cliffs, is like one big animal sanctuary. The island, located off the coast of South Australia, is home to everything from sea lions to wallabies and dolphins and is hugely popular with wildlife spotters. There's a good chance you'll see koalas in the wild on the island, but for a close-up encounter, head to Kangaroo Island Wildlife Park where you can hold koalas and get a picture taken for all your Instagram followers. If you're up for a different type of wildlife encounter, sign up for a reptile session, where you can hold snakes and lizards.

HOLD A KOALA IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

You can cuddle koalas in Western Australia, too — as long as you go to Cohunu Koala Park, just over a half-hour drive from Perth.

Cohunu currently has more than 25 koalas alongside its largely free-roaming emus, wallabies, dingoes, deer, swans, owls, and 30 talking parrots. If you like, you can spot the animals from the comfort of a miniature train that chugs around the park.

Article from: <https://www.australia.com/en/things-to-do/wildlife/where-to-cuddle-a-koala.html>