

GROCERY SHOPPING

Eleanor loved Saturdays. Saturdays meant it was time to go grocery shopping! She always went to the big supermarket near her apartment, and her son, Arthur, loved to go with her.

First, Eleanor and Arthur found a trolley. Arthur always wanted to push it. He liked the big ones because they bought a lot of food. Their first stop was the produce section. Eleanor needed fresh fruit and vegetables. She picked some red apples, green bananas, and three big tomatoes. Arthur carefully put them in the trolley, arranging them nicely.

Next, they went to the dairy aisle. Eleanor needed milk, cheese, and yogurt. She checked the shelf for the best brands and prices. Eleanor always looked for things on sale to save money. Sometimes she used a coupon from the newspaper. Arthur helped her find the milk.

After dairy, they went to the bread section. Eleanor chose a fresh loaf of whole wheat bread. Then she looked for some chicken for dinner. The supermarket was busy today, but Eleanor and Arthur didn't mind. Arthur enjoyed helping his mother and looking at all the different foods.

Finally, their trolley was full. It was time to go to the checkout. There were many lines, but Eleanor chose a short one. She put her items on the conveyor belt. The cashier smiled and started to use the scanner to ring up her groceries. Beep! Beep! Beep! Each item made a sound.

When the cashier told her the total, Eleanor opened her wallet. She paid with her credit card. The cashier gave her a receipt. Arthur helped Eleanor put the groceries into their reusable bags.

Outside, the sun was shining. Eleanor and Arthur felt happy. The bags were heavy, but Arthur carried them to the car for his mother. Eleanor smiled. Grocery shopping was hard work, but it was important and satisfying, especially with Arthur's help.
