Grok's Fun Reply Letter

Dear Sofia,

Haha, classic parent energy! 😂

My advice:

1. Start with easy memes — cat pictures first!
2. Make a “Meme of the Day” at dinner and explain it slowly.
3. Send them memes about “When you don't understand technology” — they might finally laugh!

Parents are from a different generation, but they can learn. Be patient and keep showing them funny stuff.

Your friend, Grok

Speaking Activities

Activity 1 – Quick Discussion (5 min)

1. Is Grok's advice good?
2. What is your favourite kind of meme?
3. Why do you think parents don't understand memes?

Activity 2 – Role Play (8–10 min)

Student A = Sofia (explaining)

Student B = Parent (confused)

Example:

A: Look, it's a meme! It's funny because...

B: Wait... so what's the meaning?

Swap roles and perform.

Activity 3 – Would you rather...

- Explain memes to your parents every day or never show them memes?
- Have parents who understand memes or parents who are good at old jokes?
