

I HATE HOMEWORK

Part 1: Grammar Focus – Giving Advice with “should,” “could,” and “maybe”

Let’s practice giving advice. Use these words to help Elif and other students with their homework problems.

Example: Maybe you can study in a quiet place.

Your advice:

Should: _____

Could: _____

Maybe: _____

Part 2: Write Your Own Advice

Choose one problem below. Write 2–3 sentences of advice using “should,” “could,” or “maybe.”

Problems:

A student feels tired after school.

A student gets distracted by their phone.

A student has too much homework.

A student wants to play games instead of study.

Your advice: _____

Part 3: Write Your Own “Dear AI” Letter (Short Version)

Now it’s your turn. Write a short letter to AI (80–100 words). Choose a small school problem and ask for advice.

Use this frame:

Dear AI,

My name is _____. I am _____ years old. I have a problem. _____ makes me feel _____. I want to _____, but _____. What should I do?

Thank you,
