

THE STORY OF THE HAMBURGER

Part 1: Burger Cultures Around the World

In pairs or small groups, discuss these questions. Use comparative adjectives (e.g., spicier, cheaper, more popular) when possible.

1. Are burgers popular in your country?
2. What kinds of burgers are common?
3. Are burgers more expensive or cheaper than other meals?
4. Are burgers healthier or less healthy than traditional foods?
5. Do people eat burgers more often than they used to?

Extension: Create a mini-poster comparing “Burgers in My Country vs. Burgers in the U.S.”

Part 2: Grammar Focus — Comparative Adjectives

Examples:

- “Burgers in Peru are spicier than burgers in Germany.”
- “Fast food is more popular among teenagers than adults.”

Mini Task: Complete the sentences with your own ideas.

1. Burgers in my town are _____ than burgers in the capital.
2. Veggie burgers are _____ than beef burgers.
3. My favorite burger place is _____ than the others.

Part 3: Grammar Focus — First Conditional

Structure: If + present, will + base verb

- “If I eat too many burgers, I’ll feel sick.”
- “If we add pineapple, it’ll taste sweet.”

Mini Task: Write 3 funny burger conditionals.

Burger Challenge Game

Next Page

Burger Challenge! — Conditional Speaking Practice

Instructions:

Close your eyes. Press your finger down on the block of challenge prompts below. The one you touch is your challenge! You must respond using a conditional sentence (e.g., If I opened a burger shop, I'd call it "Planet Patty.").

Be creative, be weird, be delicious.

Challenge Prompts:

1. If you could add any ingredient to a burger, what would it be?
2. If you opened a burger shop, what would you call it?
3. If aliens visited Earth, what kind of burger should they try?
4. If burgers disappeared tomorrow, what would replace them?
5. If you had to eat only burgers for a week, what would happen?
6. If you invented a dessert burger, what would be inside?
7. If your burger could talk, what would it say?
8. If you had to make a burger for a famous person, who would it be and what's inside?
9. If you could teleport to any country for a burger, where would you go?
10. If you had to design a burger for your pet, what would it include?
11. If your school had a burger named after it, what would it taste like?
12. If you were a burger, what kind would you be?
13. If you could ban one burger topping forever, what would it be?
14. If you had to eat a burger underwater, how would you do it?
15. If you made a burger commercial, what would the slogan be?