2. The Story

Last weekend I visited my grandparents' farm. Early in the morning, Grandpa woke me up. "Come, it's milking time!" he said with a big smile.

The cows were waiting in the barn. Grandpa showed me how to milk a cow named Daisy. It was warm and a little difficult at first, but very interesting! The fresh milk went straight into a big metal bucket.

After milking all the cows, we put the milk in a big tank on a truck. The truck driver took the milk to the city. Grandpa explained that in the factory, machines clean the milk and put it into bottles and cartons.

In the afternoon we drove to the supermarket. I saw the same milk from our farm on the shelf! I felt very proud. When we got home, Grandma gave me a cold glass of fresh milk with cookies. It tasted delicious!

Now I understand where milk comes from. It's not just from the supermarket. Real milk comes from happy cows on the farm.

I like fresh milk very much. Next time I visit the farm, I want to help Grandpa milk the cows again. Farm life is hard work, but it is very interesting!
