

BARBECUE & GRILLING

© talkmor.com

1. You're Invited!

You are having a barbecue this weekend.

Decide:

Day: _____

Time: _____

Place: _____

Food: _____

Drinks: _____

Activities: _____

Now invite your partner.

Useful Language

Would you like to come to my barbecue?

It's on Saturday at...

We're going to have...

Would you like to bring anything?

3. BBQ Problems!

Your barbecue is tomorrow — but there are problems.

Choose three problems and decide what you will do.

- It is raining.
- You don't have enough food.
- One guest is vegetarian.
- The barbecue doesn't work.
- Nobody brought drinks.
- Your neighbours complain about the noise.
- Someone arrives two hours early.
- The music stops working.

Discuss with your partner.

- We could...
- Why don't we...?
- Let's...
- I think we should...

2. What Would You Choose?

Imagine you are organising the barbecue.

Choose one from each pair.

- sausages OR steak
- salad OR chips
- juice OR soft drinks
- chairs OR picnic blankets
- music OR games
- daytime OR evening

Explain your choices.

I'd choose steak because...

4. Spot the Differences — Tell the Story

Don't simply list the differences.

Choose three differences and explain what might have happened.

Example:

In Picture A there are four people at the table, but in Picture B there is another person. Maybe he arrived later.

Create your own explanations.

5. Barbecue Etiquette

Discuss:

What should guests do at a barbecue?

What shouldn't guests do?

Complete:

Guests should _____.

Guests shouldn't _____.

It's polite to _____.

It's rude to _____.

6. A Great BBQ or a Disaster?

Choose one.

A great barbecue is...

or

A terrible barbecue is...

Give your partner at least three reasons.