

FOOD & EATING

© talkmor.com

Spot the Differences

Find 10 differences.

For each difference, say:

- What is different?
- Where is it?
- How do you know?

Discussion

Talk in pairs or small groups.

- How often do you eat fast food?
- Do you try to eat healthy food? Why / Why not?
- What is a normal meal in your country?
- Is organic food better? Why?

Relative Clauses (Who, Which, Where)

Combine the two short sentences into one complete B1 sentence using who, which, or where.

1. The man is eating a hamburger. He is sitting on a tall stool.
→ The man _____.
2. The fridge contains fresh produce. It is open in the center of the image.
→ The fridge, _____.
3. This is a small cafe space. People can enjoy coffee and snacks here.
→ This is a small cafe space _____.
4. The woman is holding a takeaway container. She is wearing a blue cap.
→ The woman _____.

Fast Food vs. Home Cooking (Pros & Cons)

Look at the couple at the table in Image A. Write two real-life reasons to choose fast food and two reasons to cook at home.

- Eating Fast Food:
 - Pro: _____
 - Con: _____
- Cooking at Home:
 - Pro: _____
 - Con: _____

Complaint at the Cafe

Look at Image B. You ordered a smoothie, but the waiter brought you a hot latte by mistake.

Complete the conversation using polite problem-solving phrases ("Excuse me, but...", "I actually ordered...", "Would you mind...").

- You: Excuse me, _____.
- Waiter: Oh, I am so sorry! Let me check your order again.
- You: Thank you. _____.
- Waiter: I will bring the correct drink right away.

Teacher's Key

Relative Clauses (Who, Which, Where)

...who is sitting on a tall stool is eating a hamburger.

...which is open in the center of the image, contains fresh produce.

...where people can enjoy coffee and snacks.

...who is wearing a blue cap is holding a takeaway container.