

1. What Would You Choose?

Discuss each situation.

A. You have one week and $1,000. Would you choose a cheap beach holiday or an expensive city break?

B. You have two weeks but very little money. How would you travel?

C. You can visit any country in the world, but you can only stay for five days. Where would you go?

D. You can travel with your best friend or travel alone. Which would you choose?

Explain your reasons.

2. At the Hotel

Complete the conversation.

Guest: Hi. I'd like to check in.

Receptionist: Of course. What's your _____?

Guest: It's Smith. I booked a double room for three _____.

Receptionist: That's right. Could I see your _____, please?

Guest: Sure. Also, could you tell me what time _____ is?

Receptionist: Breakfast is from 7:00 to 10:00.

Guest: Great. And is there a _____ near the hotel?

Receptionist: Yes. There's one about five minutes away.

3. Asking for Travel Information

You're visiting a new city.

Ask your partner for information about:

- public transport
- good restaurants
- interesting places
- cheap accommodation
- local activities
- the best area to stay

Use:

Could you recommend...?

Do you know where I can...?

What's the best way to...?

Is there a good place to...?

REAL ENGLISH BOX

A very useful travel phrase is:

What's the best way to get to the city centre?

What's the best way to get to the airport?

It's useful because it works in almost any city.

4. Travel Agent Role-Play

Student A – Travel Agent

Your customer wants a holiday but isn't sure where to go.

Ask about:

- budget
- dates
- interests
- preferred weather
- accommodation
- activities

Recommend a holiday.

Student B – Customer

You want a holiday but have different preferences.

Explain what you want and ask questions.

Then change roles.
