

FUTURE CONTINUOUS & FUTURE PERFECT

© talkmor.com

Grammar

Use Future Continuous for actions that will be in progress at a specific time in the future.
Use Future Perfect for actions that will be completed before a specific future time.
Examples:

- This time tomorrow, I'll be travelling.
- By next June, I'll have finished the course.

Activity 1: Time Traveller

Choose the best tense.

1. At 9 p.m. tonight, I _____ (study).
2. By 2030, scientists _____ (develop) new technologies.
3. This time next week, we _____ (fly) to Singapore.
4. By the end of the month, she _____ (complete) the project.

Activity 2: Future Headlines

Match the headlines with the explanation.

1. By 2050, cities will have expanded dramatically.
2. This time tomorrow, thousands of runners will be competing.
3. By next year, the company will have opened five new offices.
4. At 8 a.m., students will be sitting their exams.

a. An ongoing future activity.
b. A completed future achievement.
c. An ongoing future activity.
d. A completed future achievement.

Activity 3: Milestone Predictions

Complete the sentences.

1. By the time I'm 40, I will have _____.
2. By next weekend, I will have _____.
3. This time tomorrow, I will be _____.
4. This time next year, I will be _____.

Activity 4: The Year 2040

Decide whether the sentence should use Future Continuous (FC) or Future Perfect (FP).

1. People will have built more smart cities.
2. Many workers will be working from home.
3. Scientists will have discovered new treatments.
4. Students will be learning through virtual reality.

Permission granted to reproduce for classroom use. © talkmor.com 2026

Answer Key

Activity 1: Time Traveller

1. will be studying
2. will have developed
3. will be flying
4. will have completed

Activity 2: Future Headlines

1-b
2-a
3-d
4-c

Activity 3: Milestone Predictions

Answers will vary.

Activity 4: The Year 2040

1. FP
2. FC
3. FP
4. FC