Part 1: Quick Reference & Meaning

We use so and such to emphasize adjectives, adverbs, and nouns, often showing a result (using ...that).

- So + Adjective / Adverb (e.g., The test was so difficult that most students failed.)
- Such + (Adjective) + Noun (e.g., It was such a difficult test that most students failed.)

Quick Formula Rule:

- so + adjective (no noun attached directly to it)
- such + noun phrase (uses a/an before singular countable nouns, or no article for plural/ uncountable nouns like such good news).
